UNEARTHING ARMS AND AMMUNITION.

It will be remembered that soon after Canton a shop, or rather a small godown | CANTON TO for-human-hair,-was-suspected-by-the officials of being the meeting place of the revolutionaries and was scaled up. After a time, when nothing further could be dis-covered, the owner of the house was allowed to pull down the seals, and since then the place has been ready for occupation. No native, however, would rent it. A few days ago, something suspicious appeared about some of the tiles, and the men in charge started digging, and found a box. Without more ado they rushed off to the mearest police station, and a guard of soldiers was sent to examine into matters. When these soldiers had dug through the place, two cases were discovered, which appeared to have been hidden under the tiles for some time. When they were hauled, up and opened they were found to their enterprise, though whether the re-ward will go to the soldiers or to the two men who first of all discovered syldences of the cases remains to be seen. The house was once more scaled up.

TEXILED CHINESE WIFE. Protest in Australia.

The Christian Chinese of Victoria, Anstralia), are indignant at the action of the Government in deporting the wife of a respectable resident, and at a meeting held at the Chinese Missionary Church, Little Bourke Street, the following resolutions That we, the members of the Chinese Christian Union of Victoria, enter our emphatic protest against the cruel action of the Acting Minister for External Affairs in refusing to allow Mr. Poon Goody to have his wife and young child to live with him in Australia. We are of opinion that such inhuman treatment only tends to create ill-feeling between two friendly Powers, and also a cause of great hindrance to our missionary enterprise here and in China. And, further, that it is an outrage upon the law of God

That the Federal Government, in refusing to permit law-abiding Chinese citizens to bring their wivesout to Australia. is subversive of the maintenance of racial purity, for which the 'White Australia' party contend, and a violation of treaty rights recleanly entered into between Great Britain and China. "We do express the hope that our co-religious lead-ers and right-thinking citizens will use their best endeavours to right this great wrong that a Christian country is inflicting upon the audjects of China.

That we hereby express our deep Christian sympathy with our esteemed member, Mr Poon Gooey, and pray that the threatened separation of his family may be avoided.

THE LABOUR UNREST IN ENGLAND

(Specially written for the " CHINA MAIL.

LONDON, August 18. It was rather an ironical stroke of fate that the very day the newspapers published King George's telegram of congratulation to the Home Secretary on the termination of the London Dock Strike, big riots should the unrest among all sections of the labouring classes should be more pronounced than over. Indeed the Old Country was never nearer to civil war bhan it was last week. There can be little doubt that the pandering of the present Government" to the working classes in order to get their votes has had a good deal to do with the present disorders: that and Mr Lloyd George's deliberate stirring up of class batred during the recent agitation against the House of Lords. Of course at all times of national unquiet the Government in power is bound little doubt that many of the hard things now being hurled at the present administration are fully deserved. . .

cant fact that the strikes in London, Liverpool, Glasgow and claewhere broke out immediately after the passing of the Parliament Bill, by which the old Constitution of the country was abrogated and the load given over to the wills and wishes of the representatives of a single chamber 1. We live, I know, too close to the fight to be able to grasp the full significance of all that is happening under our very noses. We are confused by the mass of detail and so fail to grasp the broad outlines. Yet some there are that can see below the surface of things and can trace the real causes which underly the present turnoff. Such an one -a Labour leader by the way-writes to the Morning Post. He says :=-

"In the last two years we have seen shipyard workers, miners, railwhy men, and others in almost constant conflict, notonly with their employers, but with their own chosen leaders. We have seen a deplorable growth of indiscipline in some of our strongest trade unions. Terms secured, accepted, and recommended by old and experienced Labour leaders have been scornfully rejected by the men Agreements have been torn up. Collective bargaining has been almost reduced to a farce in some of our best organised Among our transport, workers dockers and seamen-unskilled and mainly unorganised men-we have a big revolt against existing labour conditions. In the coal trade a huge national strike, involving a million men directly and many millions indirectly, is looming large. In the mines and workshops, on the docks, ships, and railways, there is unparalleled discon-Hongkong, September 5, 1911. 1139 tent. Why? Briefly, the facts are these seven yours out of the last ten rea DOUGLAS STEAMSHIP COMPANY, carnings have gone do. n. In many of our industries a speeding-up policy has been adopted whereby men do their work in less time and for less money than formerly. Resting times on pay have been knocked Men are rushed while a job is on hand, then suspended and their pay stopped the moment the job is finished. All round there is hurry-scurry-less pay, more fatigue, more accidents. There is mor unemployment. Although three times as Government has rather disconcerted the many of our workers are emigrating as was the case ten years ago, there is far more interview with the Home Secretary, when intermittent employment, far more casual employment, far more real unemployment among those remaining at home. After postal service, etc., We did expect the two generations of stendy improvement in Government to keep neutral and let us labour conditions, down to the closing fight it out to the finish." This gentleman, years of the Nineteenth Century, we have like many others of his class, had reckoned now, in the Twentieth Contury, pronounce on the same weak-jointed complaisance on ed retrogression. In the last half dozen the part of Mr Winston Churchill as velife we have gone backward with a swing. prevented the calling out of ligitimate And on top of it all we have more taxes force to preserve order until the riots at upon our petty luxuries, such as beer, Tonypandy had ceased. spirite, and tobacco, and we have higher cost of necessaries. Such is the situation. How has it been brought about?

> First it is necessary to observe that the well-being of labour depends upon the welfire of industry. If British industry is -not flourishing British labour canno prosper. Our commerce may be vast, our imports and "exports may prodigious, our foreign trade may tower above that of any other country for a time; but unless our industries-our proindustries-our agriculture and manufactures are progressive it is not well with us. We onmot live for ever by buying and selling-by importing and ex. parting ... We must produce things or perish. If we are developing into a nation of merchants and dockers, at the expense of our productive industries, we are going the wrong way. And, as 4-matter of fact, our great and essential productive industries are stagment. In agriculture and manufactures we are failing to keep pace with either the growth of population or the greath of domand, An increasing proportion of the things we need we get from abread! While our fields and factories are neglected more of our food and comn dities come from abroad More and more of our skilled agricultural labourers and mechanics liave to emigrate or swoll the ranks of ladly employed and badly in pur agricultural, textile, and metal trades-our three chief branches of productive and skilled industry-fleelined by 173 per 10,000 of the population." And that in spite of the fact that 2,000,000 of our people emigrated in the twenty-years. In a word, we are seriously falling to provide employment for our people. total national wage fund available from break out in Liverpool and Glasgow, while productive industry is seriously diminishing. And why Our productive industries are failing to hold their own because they are unduly taxed. Per worker employed and sper ton produced the industries of great Britain are taxed more heavily than those of another country. We could stand this at a time when we had no formidable rivals; but how, with keen cheapening of ocean thansit, we can no longer face it successfully. More taxes are wrung out of the food, drink, and tobacco of-our workers than out of those of any to be freely criticised, but there can be other country, and when to these are added rates and taxes upon property and income we have a load of taxation upon production and producers not tolerated elsewhere When the future historians of England We are handicapped not only by tariffe. come to write the history of the present abroad, but by positively extravagant day will they note, I wonder, the signifi- taxes at home. While this is so we have no-protection from outside competition, and the whole evil is being aggravated by more and more costly. "social reforms." "Is it not remarkable that this recent-> worsening of labour conditions-reduced carnings, higher taxes, more unemployment, greater cost of living, and more general discontent-has coincided with the turning of trade unions into political associations and the advancement of Socialistic legislation? We have got our noncontributory Old Age Pensions, our oneaided Compensation Acts, our Eight Hours Act, our Trade Boards Act, our Labour Exchanges, and such like and we have got more poverty. We have piled more taxes upon industry without doing anything to enable industry to hold its own in the competitive race and earn the taxes, and for our folly we are paying the penalty in withering agriculture, waning manufactures, and diminishing employment and wages. We have put a Labour Party in Parliament at the expense of trade unionism, and now we have the spectacle of our unions losing contro of labour affairs and unable to improve the wages or conditions of their members. Londers have gone to Parliament, they have engaged in political work while the nachinery of the unions has got out of genr; these leaders have lost touch with the rank and file, they enter into negotiations with employers lacking full knowledge of the men's grievances, they make bad largains, and these bargains the men are repudinting. Much of the indiscipline manifest in our miners' and mechanics's unions lately is attributable to the political work of the leaders. The Eight Hours Act for example, is at the root of many of the existing troubles in the coal trade. We have long been committed to a policy"of labour protection by legislation; we have which labour depends, or all our efforts at social reform, and all our agitations, will prove. unavailing." As I write the situation is still simmering with possibilities of greater trouble, though the unexpectedly firm attitude of the Labour leaders. As one said after the last it was announced that the troops were under orders to protect the railways, the

On the other hand,-much criticism is reserved for Hongkong in this connection, the difficulty of llousing there and the opportunity of town planning being carefully explained. Dr Fremantle says :-'Hongkong has been the kitchen which has sent out death and has damaged commerce for sixteen years throughout the civilised world, and the cooking pot is the Chinese quarter of the city of Victoria. The writer's great remedy for the Colony's ills is that Kowloon and the mainland should be developed into a business and resident al-city for the Chinese, and the slums of the island gradually abandoned; further, that the new city should be allowed to grow up only according to a pre-arranged plan: The author's suggesions, to this sud were apparently-laidbefore the Government of the Colony after his visit, but he refuses to recognise the difficulties in the way as insuperable, and

THE FAR EASTERN SUGAR TRADE.

In an interesting report on this subject the United States Consul-General at Hongkong, Mr George E. Anderson, writes :-The great refineries in Hongkong, which for years have had a material influence upon the sugar trade throughout the Far-East are face to face with circumstances. fraught with great possibilities of disaster in the present sugar situation of this portion of the world. The China trade of and to a large extent was invaded in 1910 by Formosan augar, and it is now further threatened with still greater competition from the same source during the current who have long depended upon the competition from the Formesan sugars, of the sugar refineries of Formoss, the up of our Colonies. " refineries of Hongkong may draw salvation out of the situation by some arrangementwith crude-augar producers in the former island-an arrangement which, by reason of subsidised steamships from Formosa to Hongkong and short hauls, might be very advantageous. But this arrangement, would be destructive of the trade with Java, on which sugar supply the Hongkong concerns now rely, and it is quite possible that the destruction of this trade would work more to the final advantage of the Formosan refineries than to that of the Hongkong concerns.

Since free trade in sugar up to 300,000 tons between the United States and the Philippines has been established the Philippine crop has been shipped to the United States, and the development of the Formesan industry has had no very serious effects upon the American insular posses-Blons in the Pacific. Upon Java, however, the full force and effect of the development of the Formosan industry, the curtailment of the shipment of sugar to Japan, and the dumping of the"Formosan crop in China, have been visited. The 1910 shipments of sugar from Java "to Hongkong for refining and sale to China and other northern and eastern points fell off about 30 per cent. Present reports indicate that trade in the current year continues in the same direction; he Hongkong refineries are doing less and less business, and what they are doing is less profitable than formerly. Imports of sugar into Hongkong from January to May, inclusive, in 1911, amounted to 91,339 tons as compared with 98,338 tons in 1910 and 124,913 itons in 1909. However, in the same period sugar passing through Hongkong in transit has amounted to 22,835. tons as compared with 4,367 tons in 1910 and 11,882 tons in 1909, of all of which Java has furnished an average of about 93 per cent. Most of this, however, goes to destinations other than Chinese ports. In the meanwhile the development of Formosa's sugar industry has proceeded BAR, BHLLARDS AND BOWLING rapidly: The amount of sugar produced in the island last year has been estimated to be 573,225,000 lbs., of which 132,519,000 Ibs. was refined sugar and 440,706,000 lbs. was brown sugar. The sugar companies have prospered greatly. In short the RESERVE FUNDGold $3,250,000 | business, has so far advanced in the past few years that the Government has decided to stop paying subsidies. On the other hand, the sugar interests have asked that the limit to production in the island be removed, and some are extending their operations greatly, one company, for example, is planning a great factory at Kwanteiliyo, in south-west Formosi, with capacity of 1,200 tons of raw sugar per day. Naturally a market for this sugar must be had. The fact that recently 10,000 tons of Formosan erudo augar was shipped to London indicates one-line of outlet for the product. Agents of the Formosan sugar interests have been in Hongkong for some time in connection with the further expansion of their business. Dutch and Javanese

BRITAIN'S LOANS TO HER COLONIES.

Proof of Greater Confidence.

Great-Britain is now lending money to Canada to the amount of about £40,000,000 a year, says the Colonial Office Journal. The British public is certainly showing much greater confidence in the Colonies than was the case towards the end of the last century. Last year the visible capital Bellerophon, L. H.K. for Kobe & Scattle raised here for Australasia was about £10,000,000, and the credit of the Territory has recently improved with the increasing these concerns was threatened seriously production. CIR Joseph Fayrer, in his-book, Preservation of Life in India," points out that the "exposure to the direct solar heat or to a high temperature in the shade may induce heat exhaustion, ardent fever and other avils of a more insidious character, by injuring the nervous system, in-erosaing irritability, depressing vital energy, and affecting the internal organs, especially

Leaving out of consideration the ser the sufferer attending to his duties, we are, nevertheless, brought sharply up when we consider the importance of depressed vital energy which manifests itself in a feeling of langour and reluctance to undertake anything involving either mental or physical

Lazy " is the epithet which those who aro highly endowed with vitality invariably apply to those who exhibit the symptoms of this ennui and overmastering disinclina-draining away of the phosphorous which, as discontent or held any meetings. Yet in Professor Tunnicliffe, of King's College, certain has an essential importance for the through the engine drivers leaving their ile of the cell and for the bio-chemical processes going on in it" has not been ac- work. This was not legal, of course; the for supposing that it is due to this cause is derive benefit from taking salts of phosphorus, in the same way as do sufferers Hongkong, December 6, 1910........... 1474 from conditions in which those phosphorus salts are nearly always deficient in the body. Great Medical Opinions.

For lack of energy, which involves physial debility, " the best and most-readily assimilable food is a combination of casein with glycero-phosphates," as Dr. D. B. Jones has written in a paper, an abstract of which was published in the "Indian Medical Gazotto" some little time ago. For some years past he has obtained is combination in Sanatogen, which, as most-people new knew, in-a chemical combination of the pure casein or the body-building element of milk glycoro-phosphate of sodium. The phosphorus in this wonderfully invigorating and revitalising preparation is in exactly the same form as that it which it is found in the nervous system. It is, therefore, ensily assimilated," and affects a rapid improvement in the general condition. Moreover, as that distinguished physician 511 William Gowers, has pointed out, phosphorus notably increases the proportion of the red cells in the blood. It must be clearly understood that the phosphorus needed in these cases lassitude and lack of energy are hest supplied in the form of Sanatogen and must be regarded as a food, not as a medicine, since it supplies an element which is notably deficient in the body.

When Sanatogen is taken, the sufferer is rapidly restored to normal vigour and duties with alacrity, and to perform them without fatigue.

Sir Gilbert Parker's Advice. This restoration of energy by means of Sanatogen has been attested by many thousands of people, both in the tropics and in England. This striking statement on the subject is made by Sir Gilbert Parker, M. P. : "I have used Sanatogen at intervals since last autumn with extraordinary benefit. It is, to my mind, a true food tonic, feeding the nerves, increasing the energy, and giving fresh vigour to the overworked body by the enervating climate. "By revitalising make them better than they have ever felt perience of those who take the proparation. Sanatogen has the unqualified written endorsement of more than 14,000 dectors, anipug whom are the physicians to ten crowned heads of Europe, including Ott, who was for many years his Majesty's physician at Marienbad. An exceedingly interesting pamphlet How to keep well in Tropical climates. which contains further information on this subject, and on others of vital importance to all residents in China, will be sent, free, mentioning the China Mail. application to Messra A.S. OUR SCOTTISH LETTER.

(From Our Own Correspondent). EDINBURGH, August 20. THE STRIKE PEVER.

The Scotland fortunately escaped the worst of the labour troubles. The shipping strike affected us, of course, but compared with other parts of the country, we were only touched by its tringe. The Glasgow after some disturbances they gave in on the third day. The railway war was greater menace, the whole industry of the country might have been stopped, yet it passed off after a few hours of surjety. Indeed, so far as we in "cotland are concorned, most of the strikes were practically ended before they were well begun.

There was an element of the dramatic in the way the railway strike reached us. No one expected it to extend beyond the Tweed. The men had not shown any London, has pointed out, "it is almost an hour a number of trains were held up, curately determined. Then there is reason question is whether the drivers will escape proved by the fact that people who are punishment for their interference with the languid and incapable of much exertion rights of the travelling public. It is pretty certain that, in an anxiety to smooth matters out, their offence will be condoned.

The strike here was the work of a minority of the men, and these the younger and less responsible. They were led by agitators from the South, and ruled the older and more experienced men in the few meetings held. The hothesded were overborne by the more prudent. Those who came out were not influenced by local griovances, their action was of a "sympathetic" character." They showed no enthusiasm, they morely acted in loyalty to their Unions. Happily, the stoppage was o slight duration and there was no objectionable picketting or rioting ______

SCOTTISH PRESS ON THE SITUATION. The press of Scotland, irrespective of politics condemned the strike. The doctrine of "the right to strike" it is said, "must be subjected to re-examination and brought under stringent legal enactment when it threatens the security of the State, -as it does when the whole, or any essential part of the railway system arrested." The railway system, argues vitality. He is soon able to resume his the Radical Dundee Advertiser, "constitutes the spinal cord of our modern civilisation :, let it be seriously injured, and a paralysing effect is produced on the nerves of our national life." The Unionist Glasgow Herald says-"Society cannot allow any one of its sections, no matter what its claims may be, to abrogate the nineteenth century. The most signal achievement of past hundred years" has been the improvement in

Bis accurate definition of Sanatogen's the means of locomotion. In a very real power to increase the energy and give-fresh- sense the modern world rests on the steamvigour to the overworked body and mind ship and the locomotive. ". ". . The residents in China who are so prone to suffer | right implied in the action of the strike from these conditions, which are begotten | lenders to arrest the vast machine and interpose an arrogant refusal between the by increasing the tone and men and their means of livelihood is one that brutally negatives all our civilisation. The whole of the Scottish newspapers take the same stand, volced in more or les strong language; and their views may summed up in one sentence from the Acotsman, "This railway strike has brought us face to face with rudimentary principles, and the first of them. Ising at the source the supreme law."

MARCH OF THE LONDON SCOTTISH. The week's march of the London Scottish the West Highlands, from Uban Glasgow, was a complete success. did everything for themselves, and everything well. A military correspondent, says, to for the first time in a large and varied experience of soldiering, I find a Territorial corps which can march, overafterwards." He adds that few if any corps her if she ever did any writing herself, occupying high positions in banking and commercial life are not ashaned to do the drudgery of cookling and camp scavengering. There was only one break down; it need scarcely be Mesors C. At the close of the march, the colonel declared, "No more horse transport for us." The railway strike caused a considerable amount of inconvenience to the regiment. They had arranged to travel on Saturday night from Glasgow to Loadon; but the railway officials could not guarantee trains. The situation was awkward, as most of the mon wore due at business in London on the Monday. Fortunately, by dint of fele graphing here and there, it was discovered that the Carron Company had two steamers available on the Forth, and the regiment loft , Clargow at midnight on Saturday. railed to Falkirk, marched to Grangemoull and there embarked on the steamers for

A writer in the Evening Neits dealing with the prospects of Glasgow, says that industrial enterprise, as represented by manufacturing, in checked in Glasgow.

THE FUTURE OF GLASGOW.

Its future, if one can define it, is that of a huge warehouse, a great distributing centre, with the Clyde doing, as always, a great deal more for the Western City that the milways. More and more industry Trainwaymen made a demonstration, and has gone beyond the borders of the City proper, spreading, down both banks of the Clyde; and the use of electric motive power is tending to lessen the gloom that falls over Glasgow like a pall.

It has been decided that the illuminated address to be presented to Mr Carnegie in Dunformline on September 15, when there will be present all the Lord Mayors, Lord Provents, Provests, and Layers of the cities and towns of which he has the freedom, should take the form of an album. As many portraits as can be secured of the civic chiefs will be reproduced in the album. Duofermline Public Library was the first institution of the kind presented by Mr Carnegie.

". AMONG THE GROUBE, There were no record bags of grouse on the moors on the Twelfth, the birds were too strong on the wing; but the average was higher than for many years past. . The largest, bogs to date are reported from the Hargreaves' party at Gaik, Inverness, 530 brace on the opening day and the Monday; and Mr. Macdongall and party on Overshields Moor, Mid-Lothian, 303 brace on Twelith, and 209 on Monday.

SCOTTISH POSTEY: An Edinburgh poetess, Margaret Blaikie, has produced a volume of "Songs by the Way," which may be described as out of the ordinary, fresh, and arresting.... One of the many original points of view presented is that in the poem called "Brothers." Some of us have ventured to sympathise with the brother of the Prodigal; but which of us has held any but 'the most stereotyped opinion of those earlier brothors, Cain and Abel? The authoress. however, has her own ideas, and sings,-
